

World Record Activity

As we have been reading, we have discussed Ghost's interest with World Records. Today, you all are going to be World Record experts!

First, go to the Guinness World Record website and browse through the categories and records to find ones that interest you. You could also Google search, "outrageous world records." Make sure to be school appropriate.

Then, choose one of the activities below.

1. Draw a comic strip that depicts the person completing one of the records.
2. Make a World Record certificate for a winner on Canva.
3. Cut out a "Cub's Scout" or "Girl's Scout" sash. Draw badges for some of the world records you like. You'll have to come up with icons you think represents each record.
4. Write a list of new World Records you didn't see. Write how-to directions for one of those new records.
